

STIRRING . . . a film

THIS IS A FILM ABOUT HOW SCHOOLS OPPRESS STUDENTS . . . AND ABOUT HOW SOME TEACHERS AND STUDENTS WENT ABOUT CHANGING THINGS.

"What is threatening about the film is the success of the method - that it clearly demonstrates the ability of so-called problem students to think and act intelligently and creatively on important social issues."

Lyndon Shea, The Magazine.

THE EDUCATION DEPARTMENT CONSIDERS THE MESSAGE OF THIS FILM SO DANGEROUS THAT IT IS BANNED FOR SCHOOL SHOWINGS.

JANE OEHR, THE FILM-MAKER, AND PAUL ROEBUCK, THE TEACHER IN THE FILM, WILL BE THERE TO SPEAK.
